The Junior class has gone on record as one of the pupil-est and strongest classes of the Olympia High School. Much credit is due the president, La Verne Johnson, who has held that office for two years. Other officers are: vice-president, Catherine Redpath, secretary, Gus Anderson, Girls' treasurer, Margaret Elwell, Boys' treasurer, George Albersen, and faculty advisors, Mr. Johnson and Miss Cooper.

The class was represented in athletics by, Allen White, Gus Anderson, and Chester Ralston on the football team; Gus Anderson on the basketball squad; and Norman Taylor, and Allen White, first team baseball men.

The second semester, La Verne Johnson was again elected president; Catherine Redpath, re-elected vice-president, Marjorie Otis, secretary, Gus Anderson, Boys' treasurer, and Margaret Elwell, Girls' treasurer.

The class assembly and their vaudeville skit, put on at the Stunt Party, both met with approval; while the Junior Poom, was one of the most elaborate and successful social affairs given in the High School.

The Sophomores began their second year of High School by electing Ruth Tadlock, president, Gordon Van Eaton vice-president, William Newcomb, secretary, Lois Morford, treasurer, and Mr. R. P. Burke, faculty advisor.

The class was well represented in athletics by having Robert Foster and Arthur Deming, on the football team; Eugene Langum, first team basketball man; and Charles Munro, Norman Godst, Harry Dunn, and Robert Foster on the baseball team.
This year's Freshman class, with an enrollment of two hundred and sixty-three, is the largest Olympia High has ever had.

The class officers elected for the first semester were: Philip Lindsay, president; Elizabeth Freeman, vice-president; Reed Ingham, secretary; Jack Mifflin, treasurer; Albert Gustet, yell leader, and Mr. F. E. Beck, faculty advisor.

In athletics the Freshmen were represented by two first team football men, Cleo Surger, and Gerald Reynolds, and in baseball by Philip Lindsay.

Second semester officers were: president, Van Hinkle, vice-president Reed Ingham, secretary, Alice Kuhns, treasurer, Kenneth Gilbert, yell leader, Joe LaChance, and Girls' advisor, Miss Rae Olson.

The Freshmen won the Olympus contest, selling 167 subscriptions, to the newspaper.

Their class assembly, and their "Exhibit of the Deutrick Schule," given at the Stunt Party were both very commendable.
Although the Olympus has been appearing in the form of a newspaper for three years, previous to that time it was printed in the form of a quarterly magazine. At that time the Olympus was an outside activity and no credit was given for work done on the magazine, and there was no definite meeting time or place for the staff.

Three years ago, however, a radical change took place when the quarterly Olympus, which was composed mostly of literary material, was changed into a live monthly newspaper with Edward Anderson as editor-in-chief. A regular Journalism class was organized, but it only met twice a week.

Last year the paper changed from a monthly to a bi-monthly paper. Stanley Knox was Editor-in-chief. At this time the paper was changed from a four page to a six, and the class was given a regular recitation period each day.

This year has seen a remarkable advance in the make-up of the Olympus. Each issue this year has been from six to eight pages. With Wilbur McGuire as the Editor-in-chief, the Olympus has won a place in the Central Interscholastic Press Association, an organization for first class high school papers.

The circulation of the Olympus has shown a remarkable increase over last year’s record. Buford Palmer ably handled this end of the work, until recently when he dropped school. Due to his efforts, combined with those of the Exchange Editor, the Olympus has readers in all parts of the United States.

That the paper is a success was proven by the manner in which the students and teachers responded to the subscription contest which took place during the first part of the year. The response was so great that the quota was quickly reached and passed.

The first semester of this year saw the Journalism Class under the supervision of Miss Florence Bush. But a good teacher like Miss Bush wasn’t to be kept for a very long period. The end of the first semester saw Miss Bush packing up, to leave for Eastonville, where she became Mrs. J. G. Riley.

The second semester, the class was under the direction of Mr. Brown. This semester marked a change in the methods of getting news. All the possible news sources around school were divided, and a certain number given to each student. This was called his “beat.” Each member of the class was made responsible for his particular beat, and in this way all of the news was sure to be thoroughly covered. This system has made the class much more efficient, and has enabled the members to put out a better paper.

The Journalism Class, unlike other classes, has a certain grade requirement which must be made before a student may enter. Only those students with a B grade in English are allowed to become members. Thus a high standard is held in the class.

The success of a paper could not be obtained, however, with the editorial end of the work, alone. Equally important is the business end. This year a very active group of students entered this end of the work and have made the Olympus a financial success, by soliciting ads from the various business houses about town. Many times these advertising people secured so many ads that the Editor was forced to put out a larger paper in order to make room for them all.

At the close of last semester five mid-year students dropped out the class. James Loeffer, Ruth Hayden and Gwendolyn Hartman from the editorial end, and Glen Baker and Marion Horram from the business end. These students were all valuable and were missed after their departure.

Under the able direction of Mr. Brown, several students have been made to see the possibilities of a journalistic career and are planning to take it up in college.
ORGANIZATIONS

DONT BLAME US!
Several new societies were organized in the Olympia High School during the past year but the one of most importance was the Honor Society. The installation of the Honor Society took place before an all-school assembly. Carl E. Cronon, president of the Seattle School Board, was the speaker. Each member was presented with his pin. Each class has a different pin. The Sophomore pin has a blue enamel surface with one white stripe across it. The Junior pin is the same as the Sophomore except that it has two white stripes. Both of these pins are of sterling silver. The Senior pin is of gold and has the emblem of the national society on it. It becomes the permanent property of the student upon graduation, if his record meets the requirement. The other two pins are turned in at the end of the year.

At six o'clock in the evening following the assembly the Parent-Teachers' Association gave a banquet honoring the members.

At the first meeting the following officers were elected: Wilson Tyler, president; Raymond Weller, vice-president; Ruth Tadlock, secretary, and Norman Streuse, treasurer. At the next meeting Mr. H. E. Gaines was elected faculty advisor. Committees appointed by the president were: Eligibility—Ada Daniels, Eugenia Taylor and James Marts. Program—Raymond Weller, Robert Rose, and Aida Waddington. Constitution—Anna Allen, Olga Utterback, and Roy Taylor. Advertising—Ada Wray, Phyllis Duhm and Elma Laff. During the time of the legislature was in Olympia the Society attended one of the afternoon sessions, in a body.

The purpose of this organization is to raise, as much as possible, the standard of scholarship in the school.

In order to become a member of the Honor Society one must have had at least one year's attendance in the Olympia public High School.

As character-development being a basic aim of the organization good school citizenship is required.

Eligibility also depends upon the earning of points according to the following schedule: For an "A" grade, seven points; for an "A" grade, four points; for an "B" grade, one point; for a major school service, two points; for a minor school service, one point.

The following is a list of major school services: President of the Senior Class; president of the Junior class; president of the Advisory Council; president of the Girls' Club; president of Knights of the Big "O"; editor of school paper; advertising manager of school paper; editor of school annual; advertising manager of school annual; first team lettermen; debate lettermen; manager of the Athletic Association; president of the Sophomore class; president of the Freshman class.

The following is a list of minor school services: Most important man part in play; most important woman part in play; second team lettermen; Hi-Y president.

To be eligible to wear the pin with one stripe during his second year a student must have earned twenty-six points during his first year in school.

To be eligible to wear the pin with two stripes during his third year a student must have earned fifty-two points by the end of his second year.

To be eligible to wear the "Torch" during his fourth year, a student must have seventy-eight points by the end of his third year.

To come into permanent possession of the "Torch" a student must have earned one hundred four points and be graduated by the end of his fourth year.
Girls' Club

The Girls' Club is thankful to Mr. Munson for the fifty dolls given to them to be distributed to the poor children.

The Red Cross was presented with coats, dresses, petticoats, and bonnets for the babies in need of such articles, in and around Olympia. This sewing was done under the supervision of Miss McVey and Bertha Miller.

Along with the work of the Club the girls have enjoyed many good times and this summer they have made plans to have a summer camp down the bay the first two weeks following the close of school. Committees have been appointed to have charge of the camp. Miss Mildred Lemon and Miss McVey will camp with the girls and supervise the work and play.

Preceding the Christmas holidays an afternoon was devoted to a program. Freshman and Sophomore girls were the guests of the Club.

On St. Valentine's day all the girls enjoyed a Valentine box and dancing party which was held in the gym.

Miss Wilson gave a talk to the Club on "Protection in All Things."

During the winter months bean feeds were served to the Hi-Y Club at the Y.M.C.A.

A fashion show in the form of a play was given. This play was written by Mary Ott, chairman of the Program Committee. The main part of this was to show proper dress for high school girls. Following the play a reception was held.

The Girls' Club during the school year collected $195.00.

In September of 1921 the Girls' Club was organized with Miss Maud McVey as sponsor. This Club is for Junior and Senior girls only. During the first year of existence the members of the club were very successful in everything they undertook.

In the fall of 1922 when school reopened the girls of the Junior and Senior classes again became active. Under the able leadership of Marian Cowan, president; Anne Bayles Allen, vice-president; Margaret Elwell, secretary; Catherine Redpath, treasurer and Miss McVey, faculty advisor, many worth while things were accomplished.

One of the largest achievements put over by the Club was the selling of Lyceum tickets. Two teams were chosen with Margaret Elwell and Marjorie Weston captains. The town was divided into two sections and each team had one of these divisions to canvass. Ten per cent of the receipts, which amounted to $135.00, went to the Girls' Club.

With Bertha Miller and Phyllis Snyder heading the Social Service committee, the girls were kept busy working for the poor. Thanksgiving baskets were sent to the needy. The contents of these were donated and prepared by the members of the Club.

At Christmas time many small children were made happy with scrap books, brownies, dolls and other toys either made in the Club or donated by the girls.

Hi-Art Club

Members

The founding of the Hi-Art Club was a direct result of the efforts of Robert Clem, a junior, who realized the need for such an organization in the high school. The Club's constitution was passed favorably by the Student Teacher Advisory Council. The Club has done much valuable work for the school. It has made all the posters used for the Senior Play, and has done most of the art work in this Annual. The Club members held a May Fete poster contest in April. The best poster was made by Ada Wray, president of the Art Club. Miss Wray received a cash prize of $2.00 and a reproduction of the poster was used as the May Fete tag. Einar Rand, was second prize. Miss Beck, girls' gym instructor, Miss Lawrence, primary supervisor, and Mr. Johnson, head of the Art Club, judged the posters. At the end of the contest the posters had been entered were posted around town to advertise the May Fete.

The officers of the Club are:
President, Ada Wray,
Vice-president, Chester Jackson,
Secretary, William Newcomb,
Faculty advisor, Mr. Johnson.

The purpose of the Hi-Art Club is to cooperate with the Olympus and other school organizations in art work. Next year the Club plans to have an early start and study the elements of better art work. Possibly craft work will be taken up under the supervision of Miss E. Olson. If this plan is carried out members interested will be given a chance to study and make basketry, block printing, stenciling, parchment shades and batik work. Miss Olson states that a special effort will be made to stimulate interest in art appreciation. A brief course in the understanding of principles, designs, and color theory will be given.

At one of the meetings of the club, Mr. Charles Marble, a prominent art enthusiast, spoke before the club on "The Value of Art."

The art club had charge of all the art work in the annual. Einar Rand, a member of the club, designed the cover that appears on the annual this year. This cover is probably the most artistic of all the Olympus covers. Besides the cover designs, all the panels and pictures which appear in the annual have been decorated by the club. The Hi-Art club has done more than any other organization in making the annual an artistic success.

Plans also are being completed for a course of lectures next year by prominent people interested in art work. It is thought by the Hi Art Society that this course of lectures will not only be beneficial to the society, but will do much toward stimulating interest in art throughout the school.
Girls' Athletic Association

Members

The purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association is to further interest in athletics, foster true sportsmanship and encourage a feeling of good fellowship among the girls of the school.

Miss Gladys Beek, Gymnasium teacher is sponsor of the club. The club was recently voted a representative to the Advisory Council.

The sports participated in by G. A. A. members are volleyball, basketball, indoor base ball, and outdoor base ball, track and tennis.

At the end of each sport season the members of G. A. A. have a spread in honor of the teams. At this time the All-Star Honor Team is announced. The girls showing the most ability and best sportsmanship in the four classes are chosen on the Honor Team.

The officers for the Girls' Athletic Association are: Inez Sawyer, president; Margaret Wilson, vice-president; Dorothy Snyder, secretary and Ada Waddington, treasurer.

Officers elected for next year are Lucille Mesplay, president; Lois Morford, vice-president; Iris Mosher, secretary; Wilma Scott, treasurer.

Managers elected for each sport next year are: Volley ball, Faye Hosch; basketball, Harriet Riehnen; tennis, Dorothy Stryder; out-door baseball, Nellie Alderman; indoor baseball, Erma Sanders; track, Ada Ponsley; hiking, Delores Shugart.

Points are given for each class team, honor team and hiking. At the end of the year any girl having fifty points is awarded a letter.

The big event that put on by the G. A. A. this year was the all city May Fete, May 4 in Capitol Park. Miss Gladys Beek was director in charge. It was such a success this year that it will probably become an annual event.

Louise Martin was elected May Queen by the student body.

Inez Sawyer, member of Senior class, won the distinction of being the only girl to achieve a place in every honor team. Plans for next year's G. A. A. have enlarged upon this year's program in many ways.
Hi-Y Club

Members

In October 1921 Newton C. Bader, boys' secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., called a meeting of all O. H. S. boys interested in a Hi-Y Club. As a result the Club was organized with a membership of twenty-four. Weekly meetings took place and every other week a big feed was served at the Y. M. C. A.

The following year the new officers were: Francis Ranney, president; Delbert Ruchty, vice-president; Ivan Ditmars, secretary; Albert Ditmars, treasurer; Mr. P. T. Jackson, faculty advisor and Dr. N. C. Bader, Y. M. C. A., advisor.

The reorganization meeting was held at Crane's restaurant. A supper was served and future plans of the Club were discussed. The heads of different committees were selected as follows:

Program, Wilson Tyler; Membership, Raymond Weller, Poster, Robert Clem.

During the first part of the school year the members of the Club put out a hand book, which contained much valuable information. Among the things listed in the book were the high school regulations and rules, songs and yells and entrance requirements for the University of Washington. A blank space for the scores in all football, basketball and baseball games was provided to the scores of the different teams could be entered. Raymond Weller, Robert Rose, Wilson Tyler, Milton Morse and Russell Bloom with the assistance of Mr. Bader, edited the hand book.

Hi-Y members gave the Olympia High School football squad a banquet and reception in the boys’ gym room in the Y. M. C. A., on December 7. Each football star was presented with a little gift typical of himself. The Hi-Y Club was assisted by the Mothers’ Club and the Girls’ Club.

Mr. A. W. Tyler talked on “Law as a Profession” at one of the bean feeds. These were served once a month by the Girls’ Club.

At another of these feasts Colonel Richard Hatting, editor of the Recorder and Olympian, gave a talk on “Journalism as a Profession.”

Among the other talks given at these feeds were, a talk by Rev. Wightman, a talk on the “Blue Sky Law” by Senator Morthland, from Yakima, and a talk on “China” by a Y. M. C. A. secretary.

An orchestra consisting of Ivan Ditmars, Delbert Ruchty, and Wilson Tyler played at all of these feeds.

Rooters Club

Members

The Rooters club in its first year has done a great deal for the School. It has cared for the visiting teams, transported them to and from the games and seen that they were courteously treated.

It has provided its members with sweaters and caps with the money obtained from the successful conducting of two moving picture shows and the money from the two concessions which they managed at athletic events.

They set up the bleachers at the gymnasium before all the basketball games, ushered at the games, and removed the bleachers after the game. They lead in the yelling at the football games, basketball games, and baseball games.

They have conducted rallies for the athletic teams and debate teams and have given the debate teams send-offs.

The club also put on entertainments for the Elks Club and the Rotary Club.

The first semester the Rooters Club elected Willard Alverson, President; LaVerne

Johnson, Vice-President, and Tracy Ditmars, Secretary-Treasurer.

The second semester the club elected Charles Peters to replace Ditmars as Secretary-Treasurer and elcid Smith Troy to represent them in the Student Teachers’ Advisory Council.

The Club took a decided growth May 23, when fourteen new members were voted in. About twenty students had been put on probation since the beginning of the second semester, and this fifteen had shown by their willingness to work, to really, earnestly want to join the club. Those voted in were: Wilbur McGuire, Window Gilbert, Francis Runney, Dave Adams, R. Franklin Hart, Jr., Robert Foster, Ray Forbes, Eugene Huff, Otto McKinsey, Vernon Steelman, Merion Johnston, Vance Collins, Arthur Dennis and Carl Whitney.

Friday evening, May 25, the Club were the guests of the Girls’ Club at a dinner, a movie and a dance.

The last achievement of the Rooters Club this year was the sponsoring of a movie shown at the High School May 29. Charles Ray in “The Tailor Made Man” was the feature picture and “I Do” with Harold Lloyd was run as a filler. Since its previous showing in Olympia, many people had asked to see it again, so the Club selected it and ran it at the High School. A vaudeville company made up of club members put on several acts and added attractions. Another feature of the movie was the Rooters Club Orchestra composed of Delbert Ruchty, Wilson Tyler, Vernon Steelman, Gerald Kelly and Ivan Ditmars. Wallace Brazeale and Charles Moore were outside members of the orchestra.

ROOTERS’ CLUB OFFICERS

TYLER TROY JOHNSON ALVERSON PETERS
Radio Club

Members

Soon after school started this year a group of boys organized a club known as The Olympia High School Radio Club. This group grew rapidly under the direction of Mr. R. P. Burke and soon reached a membership of about twenty-five. The Club includes students from all four classes.

The club held concessions at various athletic events and with this money and the money obtained from the motion picture show "Les Misérables" which the club put on erected an aerial and built a detector amplifier panel which will be used in conjunction with the club's receiving set.

During the year the club received the U. of W. Fresh vs. S. M. C. football game broadcasted from the radio station at Saint Martin's College. They also broadcasted several important athletic games and Lyceum concerts.

They aided in the broadcasting of the Big O's vs. Vancouver football game held at Steven's Field.

Lectures and code practice were given club members during the club meetings which were held regularly every other week. They sometimes worked in conjunction with the downtown radio club.

At the beginning of the year members came in fast until it was found necessary to make an amendment to the constitution, making it necessary for members to live up to the rules of the club.

When the school year nured its close the members began to lose interest in the Club work because of the increasing poor receiving conditions, but the greater bulk of the members hung together and chose a three circuit tuner which was judged as the type of tuner that would be best for the High School's situation.

Because of the number of new loud-speakers the Club decided to wait for another year before buying one as it is believed that a much better one can be obtained at a later time.

A Radio Club must of necessity work more during the fall and winter months because of the receiving conditions, and so it is known that the Club will have good results next year even though Oscar Nelson, Clarence Nelson, and Lester Webb graduate this year.

Plays have already been started by the members of the Club, who will come back next year, to broadcast all the important athletic events and other important events around school.

The Club will also have the use of the radio set acquired by this year's club and the use of the aerial left the school. Equipment has been left that is worth several hundred dollars.
Student-Teacher Advisory Council

The Student Teacher Advisory Council was organized last year. Its constitution was drawn up by two representatives from each class (one boy and one girl) selected by the class president and two faculty representatives. The constitution was presented to the school and was accepted.

The first meeting was held February 1st, 1922, at which time the officers were elected. Joe Koenig became president, Norman Perrig, vice-president and Eugenie Taylor, secretary.

The purpose of the Council is to foster High School spirit and bring about a closer relationship between teachers and students, and to manage school business which affects the entire school. In this way the business affairs of the school are managed in a much shorter time than it would otherwise take. The whole school is well represented because there are two members, a boy and girl from each class and a representative from organizations and the faculty. It is impossible to be an officer of any organization or class and a member of the Student-Teacher Advisory Council at the same time.

Last year the Council managed the Armenian Relief Fund Drive, Class Stunt Party, All High School Dance, Movie Program, Class Assemblies, Social Calendar, "Clean Up Day". Welcoming the Freshmen and the distribution of the pamphlets on "Essentials in Manners and Right Conduct".

This year the Council, approved the Honor Society, gave new organizations membership in the Council, helped devise a method of choosing members in the Rooters' Club, successfully supervised the school's social program. Wilbur McGuire, Olive Huggett and Miss E. Olsen composed the committee which had charge of the social calendar for the year. A motion was also passed which prevented students from holding outside activities in the name of the high school. It also decided to charge 10 per cent of all profits made from entertainments put on at the high school to clear up the movie debt.

On May 22, the Council planned a visiting day for the eighth grades of Olympia and surrounding country schools. At this time the eighth grade students were given a chance to visit the classes and subjects which they were most interested in. A large number of eighth grade students attended visiting day and became acquainted with the regular routine of the school day. The council arranged a system for handling extra circular activities and a central accounting system.

Stanley Winters represented the Student-Teachers Advisory Council at the annual Washington High School Conference, under the direction of the Associated Students of the University of Washington.

Knights of Big O

The Knights of the Big O Club has grown rapidly in its second year. Beginning with an active membership of eight it now has 14 members.

The purpose of this organization is, "To provide further recognition for athletic service in the Olympia High School; to assist in the management of all athletic enterprises in the school; to assist the coach in the awarding of letters to athletes; to promote the spirit of fair play and clean sportsmanship in all contests"; and to see that all men turning out for athletics observe all training rules and act in a manner creditable to a high school athlete.

"To be eligible for membership in this organization an athlete must have earned at least three first team letters. The letters may be all in one sport or in several. First team captains, coaches and holders of the Rotary Medal for clean sportsmanship are also eligible for membership." The members of the Knights of The Big O are as seen in picture left to right; top row, Koenig, Gardner, Berlin, Anderson, Foster, Richardson. Lower row, Miller (coach), McGuire, White, Winters, McKinstry, Forbes, Dunn, Skadan (coach).

OFFICERS

Joe Koenig, President, 3 years football, 4 years baseball, 3 years basketball.
Bob Foster, Vice-president, 2 years football, 2 years baseball, 1 year second team basketball. Bill McGuire, Secretary, 2 years football, 2 years track, 2 years baseball, 1 year basketball.

The work that has been done by the Knights of the Big O was not much but it brought about pressure on different organizations. It also recommended the work of Boys' Athletic Association. It promoted and advanced the Rooters' Club through the Boys Athletic Association

B. A. A. OFFICERS

TYLER  MORSE  PETERS

Every high school boy is a member of the Athletic Association. Wilson Tyler was elected President of this organization at a meeting held at the first of the year. The other officers of the association are: Milton Morse, Business Manager; Bertram McClarty, Assistant Business Manager; Charles Peters, Advertising Manager; Tracy Dimara, Assistant Advertising Manager.

The Advertising Manager saw that the games were well advertised both by handbills placed in the windows of downtown business firms, and by advertisements in the local papers, and by advance stories in local newspapers.

The Business Managers handled all the financial matters pertaining to the association and signed all the contracts for games with other schools.

The President of the association has sanctioned the awarding of all athletic letters and has been the head of the association.

The association has seen to it that all the teams were properly equipped, that all bills were met promptly, that the games were well advertised and that ticket venders and takers were provided.

With the new system of accounting which will be used next year the work will be easier and much more efficient in operation.

This is the first year in which no dues have been required by the Athletic Association.
Our Coach

Coach Paul T. Jackson was for four years a member of the debate team at Linfield College, Linfield, Oregon. During that time he lost just one debate. During his last two years he was forensic manager. He took part in several oratorical contests, winning two firsts and two seconds. Mr. Jackson was president of a debate society for promoting interest in debate. He was one year a member of the executive committee of the Oratorical Association of the Colleges of Oregon. Two man teams were used at that time, the first speaker delivering the rebuttal. Coach Jackson was first speaker.

Interclass Debate

To stimulate interest in this activity among the students, interclass debates were held again this year. Tryouts were held September 20, with approximately fifty students trying for places on the teams. The class advisors selected and acted as coaches for their respective classes.

Seniors (Affirmative)
Juniors (Negative)

The first interclass debate was held between the Seniors and the Juniors. The question debated was, "Resolved: That the United States should assume mandatory control over Armenia." The Senior team was made up of Dave Adams, Marian Cowan, and Wilson Tyler. The Junior speakers were Ivan Ditmars, Edith Fields, and Robert Rose. This was the first attempt for all except Fields and Tyler. In the end the Seniors were victorious.

Sophomores (Affirmative)
Freshmen (Negative)

"Resolved: That capital punishment should be abolished from the State of Washington," was the question used by the underclassmen. The Fresh boys were Stephen Christopher, Robert Tadlock, and Henry Zunwalt. Last year's championship machine was running true to form and Ruth Tadlock, Gordon Van Eaton, and Eugenia Taylor settled their customary win.

Seniors (Negative)

To decide the championship, the Sophomores and the Seniors met, debating on the Federal Employment question. The Sophomores were confident, the Seniors determined. The Seniors won the championship. Edythe Olson, Henry Gaines, and John Gerwick, as coaches, were largely responsible for the Seniors' success. Eugenia Taylor, Ruth Tadlock, Robert Rose, Edith Fields, Dave Adams, Marian Cowan, and Wilson Tyler were selected by Coach Jackson to make up the debate squad.

Interscholastic Debate

All the debates this year were on the question, "Resolved: That the Federal Employment Bureau Service should be extended and coordinated with State and Local Public Labor Exchanges."

Marion (Affirmative)
November 10
Olympia (Negative)

The season started with a bang! On the way to Morton three tires blew up and Olympia won 3 to 0. Edith Fields, Marian Cowan, and Wilson Tyler did the talking for the High School.
Olympia (Affirmative) December 4 Olympia (Negative)

Olympia (Affirmative) December 6 Payalapp (Negative)

Olympia won both of the practice debates with Payalapp. Fields and Tyler gained a 3 to 0 decision here, and Norman Perrin and Tyler won 2 to 1 at Payalapp, three teachers of their own school acting as judges.

Olympia (Affirmative) December 15 Chehalis (Negative)

This debate ended our record of eleven consecutive victories. Both teams were good in delivery, but the argument of Chehalis proved too much for the High School, and we lost by one decision. Edith Fields, Wilson Tyler, and Dave Adams did the arguing.

Olympia (Affirmative) Bremerton (Negative)

The same team travelled to Bremerton, debated on the same side of the question, and met with the same results; again the affirmative proved to be Olympia's jinx.

Hoopium (Affirmative) February 2 Olympia (Negative)

Good delivery, strong rebuttals, and thorough preparation were responsible for a 2 to 1 decision over Hoopium. Cleo Beckwith, who had just before joined the squad, Wilson Tyler, and Edith Fields represented the high school in this debate.

Olympia (Affirmative) March 2 Rochester (Negative)

No use. "In the opinion of the judges the decision goes to the negative." Three Supreme Court Judges acted in the capacity of debate judges, and gave the decision to Rochester on their interpretation of the question. Fields, Beckwith, and Tyler again debated for Olympia. Edith Fields was easily the star of the contest, her smooth delivery and strong rebuttal boding her one of the best debaters in the league.

With seven judges decisions, Olympia tied for third place in the league in which eighteen schools participated. To Doyad went the cup, with Napavine winning second place.

Olympia (Affirmative) March 28 Stadium (Negative)

Stadium (Affirmative) March 24 Olympia (Negative)

Two debates with Stadium were held to give the next year's material a further chance for development. Edith Fields and Robert Pope debated on the affirmative at Tacoma, and Eugenia Taylor and Ruth Tadlock spoke in the second debate here. These were the first interscholastic debates for Rose, Taylor, and Tadlock. As no judges were used, the winner was not determined in either debate; however, the work of the inexperienced debaters was very promising.

The burden of debating this year has fallen largely on the two veterans, Fields and Tyler. Captain Fields has already creditably upheld the honor of Olympia High School for two years, and although he quit school following the debate season this year, she will probably be back again next year to assure the judges that her side is right.

Wilson Tyler, three year letterman, is undoubtedly the greatest debater Olympia has ever produced. Many a hopeless defeat has he turned to victory by his rebuttal and to find a student to fill his place, will be the most difficult job for next year's coach.

Other debaters who have toiled hard and well for the school are Cleo Beckwith, Marian Cowan, and Dave Adams. All three were inexperienced at the beginning of the year but developed into fair debaters before the season was over. When speaking, Beckwith always became animated, and his free use of gestures marked him a strong debater.

Every member of the squad earned a debate O this year. With Taylor, Rose, Tadlock, and perhaps Fields back next year, the chances for a championship team are very bright.

The orchestra, with J. G. Gerwick as director and pianist, has been a real credit to the high school this year.

It has played many times in public and has been well appreciated always.

Everyone remembers the nights of the senior play when Mr. Gerwick and his orchestra entertained the audience with a prelude and with music between the scenes. The orchestra has also played at some Lyceum numbers. When "Clarence" was presented by the Olympia Players Club the orchestra earned several dollars for incidental expenses.

Under the leadership of B. R. McClelland, who has been director of Olympia High's band for many years, this year's band has proved its worth many times over. The good music which put the old Olympia High fighting spirit into our roosters and teams was the music made by our band. It played also for the Y. M. C. A. Circus.

Many of those who stayed in the auditorium Wednesday evening after school were able to read their Olympia to band music.
